THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

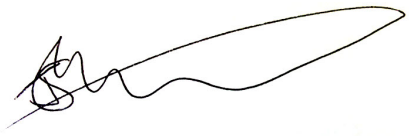

Dear Faculty Member,

Thank you for your interest in becoming a member of the Molecular Biology Program. In order to submit a complete application, you will need to follow the Faculty Application Guidelines. The "Faculty Applicant Guidelines" outline the different letters and documents that are needed for your application; make sure you read through and submit the correct items for your faculty appointment description. Please note as explained in the guidelines that a letter from the department chair(s) is required for various guarantees and, in some cases, a letter from the faculty of the participating department.

All applications should be emailed directly the Program Director, Jason Shepherd jason.shepherd@neuro.utah.edu and Elizabeth Loertscher, elizabethl@genetics.utah.edu

The Program Steering Committee will evaluate your applications. If there are any questions regarding these requirements or your current membership status, please do not hesitate to contact the Bioscience PhD Programs Office at bioscience@genetics.utah.edu or 801-581-5207

Sincerely,

Jason Shepherd
Director, Molecular Biology Program
